Book Review

The Secret Hen House Theater and The Farm Beneath the Water

by Helen Peters are both great reads and if you are to read one read them both but read The Secret Hen House Theater first. If you like emotional, nerve wracking and a breath taking book read these 2 fabulous books. In The Secret Hen House Theater their play has been destroyed - what are they going to do? In The Farm Beneath the Water the water company threatens to flood their farm and say there is no wild-life on the property - will the kids save the farm in time? If you read these spontaneous books you can find the answers to these questions. They are non put down books that captivate your attention throughout the whole book.
